On a related issue, BOR has solicited a number of project proposals to deal with issues relating to the BO's and "BDCP BO". They set aside about $2M for these studies to begin next month... IEP was recruited to give them a quick technical review and they seem to be uniformly awful, partly due to the short timeline and unclear or difficult directions given (although in the case of the one I reviewed from NMFS Santa Cruz lab the PIs have to take a lot of the blame for a proposal that should never have gotten out the door). Just an example of floundering in BDCP I think.

I spoke with Don Glaser a couple of times recently and he is really keen on spending some time with us, discussing how our work intersects and developing a deeper understanding of each other's programs and drivers.

He's on Jared's calendar for October 14 but he's not envisioning that to be anything more than a meet-and-greet overview kind of meeting. We talked about using the next few hours after the 10:00 with Jared - he suggested half a day!

I'm not sure whether there was an epiphany or whether it was our BDCP letter or what, but I very much welcome his interest in understanding EPA's interests.

We didn't talk about who he'd bring. It'd be great if you could all be there. I think this will be CV-focused (so not Klamath.)
